In addition to good mountains, good water, and beautiful scenery, the climate, sunshine, and fresh air can be said to be the Shangri-La paradise area in British Columbia. It has various lakes and mountains with different wide-angle styles: Okanagan Lake in the north, Iskaha Lake in the south, and endless stretches of sandy beaches, attracting sunbathers. Various water activities are also provided for those who are energetic: swimming, boating, windsurfing and kite surfing. The charm of Scathach Bluff is irresistible to rock climbers from all over the world.

The Greater Okanagan is fruit country, with 90 percent of British Columbia’ s fruit grown here. There are cherries, plums, peaches, dates, almonds and apples, etc., which are the source of the economy of this area. There are more than a hundred wineries located there, and vineyards can be seen everywhere. It is said that the grape grade there is the same as that of the Rhine River region in France. The government charter has been marked with VQA to indicate the excellent quality.

It is worth mentioning that water monsters were found in this area during the Indian period, which further increased our interest in exploring. Are we lucky enough to witness the appearance of water monsters?
