In the early Yuan Dynasty, the stone city was greatly expanded and the old stone city was given a new look. Guangxu 28 In 1999, the Qing government built Puli Hall here and repaired the castle. After breakfast, visit the ancient city of Kashgar (tour time is about 1.5 hours). It was originally called Shule and has a history of more than 2,000 years. It was once the city of Shule King in the ancient Western Regions. The earliest record can be found in the "Book of Han. Biography of the Western Regions" recorded by Zhang Qian in the Western Han Dynasty. The streets and alleys in the old city are criss-crossed, and the winding paths lead to quiet places. Most of the residences are made of earth, wood, brick and wood structures. It is currently the largest existing group of earthen buildings in the world. The Uyghur ethnic minority lives here. The Uyghur ethnic group is good at singing and dancing, and still retains rich ethnic minority customs and habits. Then go to the Hotan Jade Exhibition Hall. After lunch, continue to visit the Id Kah Mosque (tour time is about 1 hour). It was built in 1442 and covers a total area of 16,800 square meters. It is not only the largest mosque in Xinjiang, but also the largest mosque in the country; then visit the Xiangfei Garden (tour time is about 2 hours). The Tomb of Apahoga and the Tomb of Xiangfei are located in the eastern suburbs of Kashgar. It is a typical Islamic ancient building complex that was built around 1640. It is said that 72 people from five generations of the same family are buried in the tomb. It is named after Apahoga, a famous Islamic master of the "Izen sect" in Kashgar in the late Ming and early Qing dynasties, who was buried there. After dinner, take a special train to Kuqa.

Kashgar-Kucha (the train is expected to travel 12 hours)

D9 10/15(Four) Kuqa

Today's meal	Breakfast: Special train breakfast	Lunch: Chinese lunch	Dinner: Chinese dinner
Today's accommodation	Kuqa Hotel or similar class

Arrive in Kuqa in the morning. Kuqa is the seat of Kucha Kingdom, one of the thirty-six kingdoms in the ancient Western Regions. It was once prosperous and the birthplace of the famous "Qiuci Music and Dance". The "Hu Xuan Dance" that was very popular in the court during the Tang Dynasty was an important part of the "Qiuci Music and Dance". Go to visit the Mysterious Grand Canyon of the Tianshan Mountains (tour time is about 1.5 hours). The reasons why the Grand Canyon is mysterious are mainly reflected in: first, it often emerges from the ground like a misty yin and yang sphere that looks like a "Bagua Diagram"; second, it is the strange image of the divine dog Shou Gu who changes colors with the seasons. After lunch, visit the Kizil Thousand Buddha Caves (tour time is about 2 hours). This is the westernmost of the four famous grottoes in China. The caves were first excavated in the 3rd century AD, at the end of the Eastern Han Dynasty. After thousands of years, there are 236 caves preserved. The most exciting one is the existing murals of tens of thousands square meters. From the 5th to the 7th century AD, incense flourished here. At that time, the population of Qiuci Kingdom was more than 100,000, and there were tens of thousands of monks practicing in Thousand Buddha Cave. People call this place "China's Second Dunhuang", and in the near future, it will be even more famous in the world than Dunhuang.

Bosten Lake is the source of the Kongque River, and the supply water source is the Kaidu River in the Bayinbulak Grassland. "Book of Sui" records that this lake has "benefits of fish, salt, cattail and reeds". There are luxuriant reeds growing around the lake area, and the scenery is extremely beautiful. After dinner, take a special train to Beitun.

D11 10/17(six) Beitun—Hemu Village

Today's meal	Breakfast: Special train breakfast Lunch: Chinese lunch Dinner: Chinese dinner
Today's accommodation	Hemu Hotel or similar class

Arrive in Beitun in the morning. Drive to Jiadeng Valley, a residential area in Kanas, and visit Hemu Village. It is the largest of the Tuva villages and is known as the "No. 1 Village in China". The residents are basically nomadic. The houses here are all made of logs, making the village full of life. While retaining the original taste, the ancient Hemu village also retains its mysterious color. Hemu Village is most famous for the intoxicating autumn colors that spread all over the mountains. The smoke from the cooking pots rises slowly in the autumn colors, forming a dreamlike smoke belt, which is better than a fairyland. On the hillside around Hemu Village, you can overlook the panoramic view of Hemu Village and Hemu River: ghosts in the empty valley, small bridges and flowing water, and herdsmen passing through the forest...all of which form beautiful landscape paintings. Hemu Bridge is the symbol of Hemu Village. This ancient wooden bridge has a history of more than 100 years. Over the past 100 years, it has withstood the impact of the Kanas Glacier several times. The locals can recall the past when they see the Hemu Bridge. This is also the best place to take pictures of the Hemu River. Standing on the bridge, you can see the Hemu Village on the bank and the endless white birch forest. And overlooking the Hemu River under the bridge, you can see the same purity and beauty as Hemu Village. After dinner, check into hotel.

After breakfast, drive to Kanas Forest Park (including shuttle bus + cruise ship, tour time is about 4 hours). It is a natural landscape created by Quaternary glaciers, geological tectonic processes and hydrodynamic forces. Kanas means "beautiful, rich, mysterious" in Mongolian. The guangguangshan scenery here blends into one, with both the majestic scenery of the north and the beauty of the mountains and rivers of the south of the Yangtze River. It is extremely beautiful. Take the shuttle bus into the scenic area, passing through: Tuojing Bay, Rowan Valley, Birch Forest, Wolong Bay, Moon Bay, Shenxian Bay, Yaze Lake. The beautiful scenery and its name will be engraved in your mind. It is quiet and beautiful, and it is a paradise on earth that can purify people's souls. After dinner, check into hotel.

The hills here have unique geology and display a variety of colors. When the sunset shines in the evening, the colors are gorgeous and fantastic, which is very spectacular. On the opposite bank is a dense Populus euphratica forest, which is beautifully reflected in the river. In autumn, it becomes a fairy tale. The yellow leaves are brilliant, making it a great place to take photos. In the afternoon, go to Beitun and take a special train to Yining.

After breakfast, drive to Nalati Grassland, one of the four largest alpine valley grasslands in the world (tour time is about 3-4 hours), also known as "Gongnaisi" grassland, which means "White Sun Slope" in Turkic language and has been a famous pasture since ancient times. Under the majestic snow-capped mountains, wild lilies, tulips, red poppies, and purple sage bloom from the foot of the mountain to the top of the mountain. The overwhelming momentum turns the entire grassland into a dream paradise. The snow kisses the blue sky, the mist surrounds the pine forest, the mountains are stacked, the green grass is refreshing, the birds are flying and the butterflies are dancing, the cattle and sheep are leisurely, carrying the clear rivers and springs as jade pendants, and wearing the snow-capped spruce as neon clothes. The artistic conception of truth, kindness and beauty, and the shock deep in the soul, are unforgettable. Truly experience the natural harmony between people and scenery, heaven and earth. When I come here, I am always intoxicated by the natural beauty in front of me, reluctant to leave... Infected by the rich Kazakh folk customs, I never want to leave... Then drive to Yining and depart for Urumqi in the evening.
