Today's meal	Breakfast: in hotel Lunch: farm style Dinner: Yixinyuan
Today's accommodation	Urumqi Universal International Hotel or similar class

The Stone Forest Scenic Area is located in Shilin Yi Autonomous County, Kunming City. It is known as "the best wonder in the world". The Stone Forest is a typical karst landform, consisting of large and small stone forests, Naigu Stone Forest, Dadieshui, and Changhu. The area is full of stone peaks, stone buds, sinkholes, and underground rivers. The peak forest transforms into various shapes, such as sword-shaped, tower-shaped, mushroom-shaped, and irregular columnar shapes. It is all kinds of strange and beautiful. When coming to Kunming, Stone Forest is a must-see. In Yunnan, there is a saying that "Look at the Stone Forest from the ground, and Jiuxiang from the ground", which shows the status of Jiuxiang. Jiuxiang and Stone Forest are both karst three-dimensional landscapes. The beauty of the stone forest lies in the peak forest; while the beauty of Jiuxiang lies in the caves. Jiuxiang Scenic Area has hundreds of large and small caves. It is the largest and most numerous cave community system in China and is known as the "Cave Museum" by experts. Jiuxiang Scenic Area is located in Jiuxiang Yi and Hui Autonomous Township, Yiliang County. The scenic area has dense forests and rich animal and plant resources. It has magnificent mountains, rivers, canyons, and magnificent underground caves. It is a typical karst landscape. The main attractions include: Yincui Gorge, Jingxun Gorge, Lion Hall, Male and Female Waterfalls, Kanda, etc. To enter the scenic spot, you must first take the sightseeing elevator with a height of 53 meters down to the Yincui Gorge at the bottom of the valley, and take a cruise ship to travel through the canyon, which is only more than ten feet narrowest. The stalactites on both sides are in various shapes and forms, which is dizzying. Pass through the canyon and arrive at the underground cave. The Lion Hall is an oval underground hall with a sloping dome. It is named because the stalactites at the south entrance are piled up like lions. The Lion Hall is tall and open, with a total area of more than 15,000 square meters. The roof of the cave is a huge rock without any support, which is a miracle. In the movie "Myth", the scene where Jackie Chan and Kim Hee Sun were flying around in the mausoleum was shot here. In the middle of the hall is a huge exhibition hall, which displays some rare stone treasures and ethnic handicrafts. Just take a look. Passing through the Lion Hall is the Palace of the Goddess. The cave is densely covered with stalactites in various shapes and forms, which look misty and blurred against the backdrop of colorful lights. Walk across the Diehong Bridge over the underground river and enter Wolong Cave. Two huge waterfalls flow down the mountain wall in the cave, with a height of 30 meters. From a distance, they look like the character "human". They are called male and female waterfalls. They are one of the iconic landscapes of Jiuxiang Scenic Area. The splashing waterfall makes the mountain road at your feet slippery and difficult to navigate, so you need to pay attention to safety. On the side of the mountain road, stalactites are stacked on top of each other, forming like terraces. Under the light, they are beautiful. This is the legendary "Kanda". There is a giant cone-shaped stalactite between Kanda, which is said to be a granary, and it does look quite similar. Continue forward, passing through the Linyin Village (where young men and women perform so-called folk dances) and the Bat Cave, which has no bats for a long time. Follow the winding mountain road to the lower station of the cableway. Take the cableway for 10 minutes to return to the gate of the scenic spot. If you do not purchase a ropeway ticket, you can only return to the sightseeing elevator along the same route.

Today's accommodation	Lugu Lake Yuelianzhuang Dabushuyuan or Lugu Lake Xiaozhu Mosuo or similar level

Pig trough boat tour on the lake This kind of canoe is also called "pig trough boat". It is a traditional means of transportation for the Mosuo people, especially a helper for Axia walking marriages along the lake. The grace of Mosuo girls, the elegance of canoes, and the endless fishing songs are widely remembered and admired by Chinese and foreign tourists. They are known as the "Three Wonders on the Lake" and have become the unique scenery of Lugu Lake that is famous far and near. Liwubi Island is located in Lugu Lake and Tubu Peninsula, dividing Lugu Lake into two parts, facing Snake Island. One side of the island is lined with stalagmites, forming a natural dock, and a winding path leads directly to the top of the island. There are many rhododendrons and wild cherry trees beside the path. At the end of the flowers is the Tibetan Buddhist temple Liwubi Temple, with a white pagoda on the top of the island. Liwubi Island, Sheva'o Island and Lige Island are collectively known as the three Penglai Islands of Lugu Lake. Mosuo Guozhuang Party Visitors to Lugu Lake are most looking forward to the bonfire party in the evening! The Mosuo people hold a Guozhuang Dance singing and fire party during every grand festival or celebration. Bonfire party activities usually use pine branches to light a fire in the center of the open space. Men and women in costumes hold hands and form a large circle, singing and dancing around the fire. Usually such gatherings are an opportunity for young Mosuo men and women to express their love for each other. If you are interested in someone during singing and dancing, you use your thumb to dig into the palm of the other person's hand. If the other person is interested in the same way, dig back. This is the traditional way of Mosuo people showing love.

Rige Observation Deck The picturesque clear water and green mountains here, the mirror-blue lake surface, the white clouds in the sky and the surrounding peaks are clearly reflected in the water, blending the lake, mountain and sky into a crystal-clear body. The beautiful Rige Peninsula forms a wonderful picture. It is a paradise for photographers to take pictures. The Rige Peninsula is known as "the most beautiful island in Lugu Lake". Caohai is located on the east side of Lugu Lake. Because the lake is shallow and covered with many reeds, the entire lake is lush green or all over the sky with withered yellow. It is very artistic and is a popular spot for sightseeing and photography by Lugu Lake. One of the main sights is the long and pale yellow lake, and the other is the Caohai Bridge across the water. This bridge was the bridge that Mosuo boys once passed when they were walking for marriage, so it is also called the "walking marriage bridge." You can walk on the bridge and stroll among the reeds at close range. Shuhe Ancient Town is also known as the hometown of clear springs. Shuhe River is surrounded by mountains and rivers. Residential houses are scattered in a well-proportioned manner. There is a pool of water on the street, called Jiuding Longtan, also known as Longquan. Green willows hang on the ground around the pool, and emerald cypresses point to the sky. The spring water is clear and there are countless swimming fish. The water overflowing from the pool winds along the road in the middle of the village, making sounds from far and near. The smooth stone slabs on the street that have been trampled by people and horses seem to still reflect the prosperity of the past.

The thousand-year-old Bodhi tree is a large tree plant of the genus Ficus of the Ficus family. Hinduism, Buddhism, and Jainism all regard the Bodhi tree as a "sacred tree." The tree trunk has grown into the shape of a human hand, which is very vivid and has amazed many tourists. Dukezong Ancient City is the best-preserved and largest Tibetan settlement in China and is the hub of the Ancient Tea Horse Road. Located in Shangri-La County, Diqing Prefecture, Yunnan Province, it is an ancient city with a history of more than 1,300 years. It was once a window for cultural exchanges between the snowy Tibetan countryside and the Yunnan region, and the link of economic and trade in the Sichuan-Tibet-Yunnan region. In recent years, with the development of local tourism, Shangri-La County has strengthened the protection and repair work of the ancient city of Dukezong to recreate the historical style of the ancient city. In 2001, the ancient city of Dukezong was approved as a famous historical and cultural city in Yunnan Province.

Jade Dragon Snow Mountain is the closest mountain range to the equator in the northern hemisphere. It is located on the southeastern edge of the Qinghai-Tibet Plateau, in the Hengduan Mountains distribution zone. In terms of geotectonic structure, it belongs to the Hengduan Mountains fold belt. It is located about 15 kilometers north of Lijiang County. The mountains run from north to south, with a length of 35 kilometers from north to south and a width of 25 kilometers from east to west. The snow mountain area is 960 square kilometers. The alpine snowy scenery is located at an altitude of more than 4,000 meters. Covered with snow all year round, the snow-capped mountains are towering, spanning 13 peaks, with an altitude of 5,596 meters, the highest of all peaks. Yunshanping is a forest grassland on the east side of Jade Dragon Snow Mountain, about 0.5 square kilometers and about 3,000 meters above sea level. The snow-capped mountains are like a jade screen, towering into the clouds; the spruce flats are surrounded like a green city, lush and green. The lower station of Yunshanping Cableway is located next to Baishui River in Jinxiu Valley of Jade Dragon Snow Mountain. From here, you can go directly to the Yunshan Plank Road at the upper station. There are two ways to go to Yunshanping: taking the cable car or hiking up the mountain. The total length of the Yunshanping Cableway is about 1,000 meters, with a height difference of about 300 meters. Ganhaizi is an open meadow at the east foot of Yulong Mountain. It is a large natural pasture. There is a carpet of grassland here, which stretches from the foot of Yulong Snow Mountain in the west to the far horizon. Ganhaizi is the closest and best place to see the entire Jade Dragon Snow Mountain. Here you can see the thirteen peaks of Jade Dragon Snow Mountain arranged from north to south. It is majestic and spectacular, with sparkling silver, especially the main peak, which is steep, like an open fan, cutting into the sky, majestic. You can also see the snow-green glaciers winding down above the snow line from a distance, and use a telescope to appreciate the modern glacier wonders of this green peak. Blue Moon Valley, also known as Baishui River, is a river formed by the melted glacier snow water of Jade Dragon Snow Mountain. It cascades down the valley. The water is clear and dark green. The river bed is composed of deposited limestone fragments, which is gray-white. The clear spring flows through it. From a distance, it looks like a white river, hence the name. It is said that the water of Baishui River comes from the mouth of the Jade Dragon and is spiritual. It is also a holy place of love. 【Baishui River】 Visited by the melting of Jade Dragon Snow Mountain, the river bed and platform are composed of white marble and limestone fragments, and the clear water flows through the stone steps. It is also white in color, so it is named Baishui River. Impression Lijiang Giant Song and Dance Show It is a large-scale live song and dance show launched again after Guilin's "Impression Liu Sanjie". It costs 250 million yuan. The first part is "Impression of Snow Mountains" and the second part is "Impression of Ancient City". The creative staff are composed of the original cast of Impression Liu Sanjie. The entire work is set against the backdrop of snow-capped mountains and at the world's highest performance venue at an altitude of 3,100 meters. It consists of more than 500 non-professional actors with dark skin, including sonorous men from 10 ethnic minorities and ordinary farmers from 16 rural villages. Their native movements and simple singing will bring you an absolute shock to your soul.
