This morning we came to the famous Lake District in Austria. Since the Middle Ages, the princes and nobles of the Habsburg dynasty have loved to come here for vacation and hunting. The entire area is connected by 12 large and small lakes, like pearls. Its beautiful scenery can be seen, with gorgeous mountain scenery and pleasant lakeside scenery. We specially arranged a visit to the small town of Hastatt, the largest lake area in the Austrian Alps. The wooden house-style buildings and cartoon-like houses nestled on the mountains and lakes are the favorites of Japanese and European people. If you want to enjoy the picturesque scenery of the lakes and mountains in the Alps, we will then drive northward through the Austrian and Czech borders to the United Nations Educational and Cultural Council, which protects the ancient city and has the most beautiful medieval town in Europe - Krulov.

The Czech Republic is a dream-like country. Silesia, Bohemia, and Moravia have had eccentric fates for thousands of years. Each ancient city was born in a different time and space background, creating a culture and style that is unique in the world. When you walk into the ancient city of Krulov, time seems to have stopped. As in the 18th century, nothing in Krulov seems to have changed. The Vltava River runs through the town in an S-shape. All roads in the town are paved with small stones and slates. The city is full of red roofs and the charming scenery is intoxicating. Get off the bus and visit: Hasstat Lake (town), Baroque city tower, and municipal square. Reference driving time distance: Lake District Holiday Villa 5KM/15min Hastatt Town 220KM/3h30min Krulov Beautiful Alpine Lake District The Alps stretch for 1,200km starting from the south of France. Among them, it is recognized that the most beautiful places are in Switzerland and Austria. Among them, the most beautiful place in Austria is the Alpine Lake District, which is therefore the most popular among Europeans and Americans. It is also the most expensive. Many tour groups rush through it in order to save some tour fees or lack of time, leaving you with only a beautiful short-term impression. However, we insist on letting you stay longer because the beautiful lake district is worth staying... Especially the town of Hasstat, which has the same name as Hasstat Lake. The lake is always filled with a thin mist in the morning light, rising from the valley and spreading toward the town. It is misty and misty, like a fairyland, but not real. In the afternoon, the forest is calm and quiet, the white swans and the ferrymen are all so peaceful, giving people an unearthly and unreal feeling, as if they are in a dreamy fairy tale world.

This morning we arrived at the most beautiful scenery in Europe, the fairy tale city of a thousand towers - Prague. The fairy tale city of Prague, literature, ancient castles, street performers and beautiful legends make Prague perfect and will never be forgotten. Overnight in Prague. Get off the bus and visit: Charles Bridge, Old Town Square, Powder Tower. Prague is a place that many people dream of traveling to in their lifetime. The beautiful and meandering Vltava River runs straight through the city, dotting the scenery on both sides. It has given poets and musicians unlimited inspiration for hundreds of years to sing and praise the scenery of Prague. The rich architectural styles have made Prague known as the city of a hundred towers, ranging from imitation of Rome, Gothic, Renaissance and Baroque to Art Nouveau and Cubist buildings. Under the setting sun, many buildings shine like gold, making Prague look golden and glorious.

Encountering Prague starts from the castle palace and the small town. The legends that are constantly circulating compare with the changing history, just like the movie "Amadeus" shot here, presenting the most beautiful things to the world. The Baroque buildings and streets are like fairy tales. They have gone through countless years and cold and heat among the tourists and crowds in the past. They may not have the literary talent of Kafka, but But we are able to stop and wander here like other poets and poets. The beautiful and elegant scenery along the Vltava River is even more beautiful in the constant melodious music of the strings. The unspoiled and unique ancient buildings next to the old town and the old square, whether they are Gothic or Renaissance, are all worth talking about. They are truly worthy of UNESCO. Selected as a city of human heritage; the Charles Bridge is still full of street performers, painters and a constant flow of passers-by. It looks like a beautiful painting under the sunset, so natural and leisurely! In the afternoon, proceed to Bratislava, the capital of Slovakia. Includes admission tickets: Castle Palace Area, Golden Trail.

In the morning, we started sightseeing in Bratislava. Slovakia and Czechoslovakia, formerly known as Czechoslovakia, separated during the Purple Revolution. Since then, the two countries have taken different directions. There are many ancient monuments here that have not been damaged by war, and the antiquities and buildings from the Roman Empire are well preserved. Then we came to Budapest, the twin star city on the Danube River, the capital of Hungary, a romantic country. Budapest has long been known as the Danube Pearl and the Danube Queen. Retro Buda and modern Pest are connected by large and small bridges of different shapes and stories on the Danube River. The Fisherman's Bastion on the Buda Hill is like the first sandcastle on the beach. The silver-white color is fascinating. The colorful Matthias Church with mosaics is the coronation church of the king in the past. Continuing the sightseeing in Pest district, drive on the Andrássy World Heritage Avenue, with beautiful Neo-Renaissance palaces and houses on both sides. The millennium-old historical monument of the founding of the country on Heroes' Square tells the heroic deeds of Hungary's ancestors. Tonight we will stay at Margaret Island, located in the middle of the Danube River. This quiet and comfortable island is neither in Buda nor Pest. You can take a stroll on the island, feel the breath of the Danube River, or take a Hungarian hot spring bath, which will be endlessly memorable. Take an evening cruise on the Danube River in Budapest (at your own expense) and enjoy the unparalleled and magnificent night views on both sides of Budapest. You can have a panoramic view of the most beautiful and splendid castles and the magnificent Parliament Building in Budapest and Pest. Driving tour: Andrássy Boulevard (UNESCO). Get off the bus and visit: Fisherman's Castle, Matthias Church, Royal Palace Castle District (UNESCO), Heroes' Square, Municipal Park, Margaret Island. MARGIT-SZIGET 1. Margaret Island, located in the middle of the Danube River, is neither within the scope of Buda nor Pest, which highlights her unique and peaceful atmosphere. The 2.5-kilometer-long and 500-meter-wide garden island is named after Margit, the daughter of King Bela IV of Hungary. The island has hot springs, tree-lined trails, churches, monastery ruins, musical fountains, amphitheaters and other attractions. In the afternoon today, you can take a walk on the island, feel the breath of the Danube River, or take a bath in the Hungarian hot springs, which will be an unforgettable experience. "Spring in Hungary" begins with hot spring bathing... 2. The history of hot springs in Hungary can be traced back to 2000 years ago. The Romans who loved bathing introduced the concept of hot springs to Hungary. Then it reached its heyday during the Turkish rule in the Middle Ages, and many famous hot springs were even built. This has also created the present-day Hungarians, who regard hot spring bathing as a national sport. When people have nothing to do, they go to the hot springs to relax, swim, play chess, chat... Today we have specially arranged to stay at the SPA MARGITZIGET Margaret Island Hot Spring Hotel. You must experience this universal hot spring activity in person, so that you can have more leisure time during your enjoyable trip, and also allow you to better understand the essence of Hungarian hot spring culture! If you come to Hungary and don’ t go to a hot spring, it means you have never been to Hungary.

Travel to Vienna, the capital of music. Vienna, the capital of the Habsburg dynasty, once ruled most of Europe for half a century. We will arrange a visit to the Bear Brown Palace, a palace built during its most powerful period. In the evening, you are also free (at your own expense) to listen to a prestigious concert in Vienna, Austria, which is a beautiful end to this Eastern Europe journey. Includes admission to: Bear Brown Palace.
